

Does the Health Care sector's revenue expenditure level compare favorably to that of the IT sector in Year 4?

Total Revenue for Health Care Sector in Year 4

Total Revenue for Information Technology Sector in Year 4

The following are the graphs for the annual revenue reported for all companies in the Health Care and IT sectors in year 4.

Both distributions have positive or right-skewed skewness. This indicates that the mean is higher than the median for each.

The mean for Health care is about $27 billion, and for Information Technology is $16 billion. However, the median for Information Technology is $5 billion. While the median for health care is $10 billion.

Health care has a standard deviation of $45067079223.4665, whereas the IT sector is $32915809921.4897.

The IT sector as a higher range of 2.14 , compared to the health care sector of 1.89 .

From these values, we can note that the IT sector is more spread than the health care sector.